

PRESS RELEASE – April 2nd 2015
Night Sky MiniScope™
Coming Summer 2015

Capture the real Night Sky™ with your phone iCandi Apps®, the creators of the original Night Sky™ stargazing apps are set to release their first piece of stargazing hardware designed for use with iPhones.

Night Sky MiniScope™ will attach to smart devices to deliver 50X optical zoom through its high-grade lenses, and work directly with the Night Sky™ apps.

Night Sky MiniScope™ is crafted from lightweight brushed aluminum, finished in sublime Space Gray, small enough to fit in your bag, and sturdy enough to go hiking.

Everything you need is supplied in a handcrafted luxurious box. Night Sky MiniScope™ works seamlessly with the Night Sky™ stargazing apps.

Locate a celestial object with the Night Sky app and get the perfect image with Night Sky MiniScope™.

“We’re so excited to announce Night Sky MiniScope, our first piece of stargazing hardware that will work directly with the Night Sky apps! We’re hoping it will allow anyone, anywhere, to capture beautiful images of the real Night Sky!”

- Andy Weekes, Creator of The Night Sky & Company Director – iCandi Apps.

Night Sky MiniScope™ is set to launch in Summer of 2015 and will be supplied in a special first edition box with a hand signed Certificate of Authenticity.

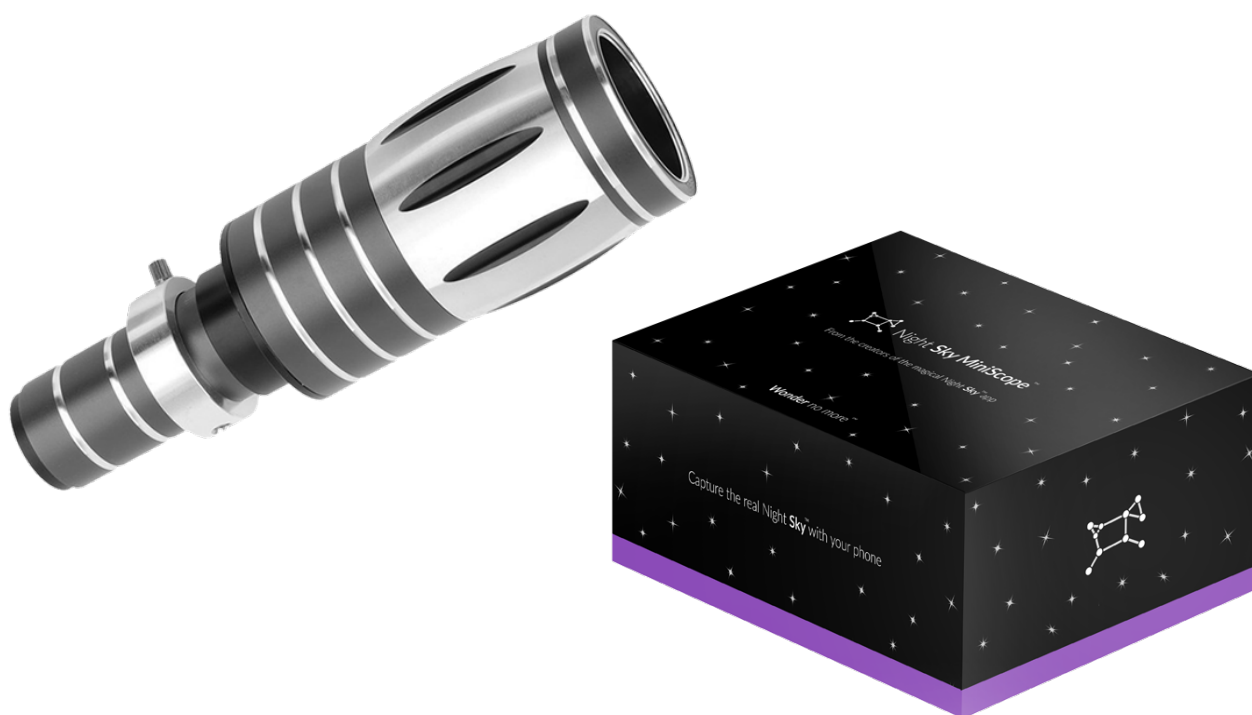

Night Sky MiniScope™ will initially retail through iCandi Apps® website (NightSkyMiniScope.com) and through the Night Sky™ stargazing apps.

iCandi Apps® was founded in 2008 by Andy Weekes, after he was inspired by the App Store introductory keynote by Steve Jobs. Andy went from being a school teacher in England to creating one of the most successful reference apps in the world. With accolades including two number one hits, a feature in Apple’s ‘Best of 2012’, and even having Night Sky 2 preinstalled onto iPads in Apple Retail Stores worldwide, Andy has seen success he couldn’t have even dreamed of. With the launch of Night Sky MiniScope™ iCandi Apps® will connect people around the world to the real Night Sky™ above.

Night Sky MiniScope™ - Capture the real Night Sky™ with your phone.
