

Press Release – Launching October 30th

Night Sky Pro™ – Exclusive to iOS

iCandi Apps®, the creators of the original Night Sky stargazing app are set to launch Night Sky Pro™ this Thursday, October 30th. This powerful new app will bring the ultimate stargazing experience to the palm of your hand, and is set to amaze millions of iOS users worldwide. It will also be receiving national coverage across the US and UK in The New York Times and The Sunday Times.

With incredible Pro features such as a Sky Time Machine, Deep Space Objects, Light Spectrum Array, stunning 3D graphics and many more out of this world features, prepare to be blown away with the most powerful and feature packed stargazing app yet - Night Sky Pro™.

Night Sky™ has sold over 8,000,000 copies to date and has received over 15,000 5 star App Store reviews. It is one of the most magical experiences anyone can have with a smartphone or tablet. Simply hold your device to the sky and identify stars, planets, constellations and satellites.

“I’m very impressed with The Night Sky ... it offers a delightful and polished user experience.” - Avery Wang (creator of Shazam)

“...Pure fun to use and really hard to put down ... Exactly what educational apps should be all about” - iDownload Blog

The original Night Sky™ and Night Sky Lite™ apps will also be receiving free updates, giving users a taste of the incredible experience Night Sky Pro™ offers.

iCandi Apps® was founded in 2008 by Andy Weekes, after he was inspired by the App Store introductory keynote by Steve Jobs. Andy went from being a school teacher in England to creating one of the most successful reference apps in the world. With accolades including two number one hits, a feature in Apple’s ‘Best of 2012’, and even having Night Sky 2 preinstalled onto iPads in Apple Retail Stores worldwide, Andy has seen success he couldn’t have even dreamed of. With the launch of Night Sky Pro™, iCandi Apps® is set to take things to the next level.

Night Sky Pro™ will be available worldwide on October 30th 2014 on the Apple App Store.

Night Sky Pro™ - Wonder no more.™
